Welcome Home: Veterans on Campus Training

Friday, October 13, 2017

Check-in at 8:30am; Training from 9:00am – 1:00pm

Shasta College - 11555 Old Oregon Trail,
Building 2100, Room 2165, Redding, CA 96049

The California Community Colleges Student Mental Health Program, in partnership with Shasta College, is now offering the Welcome Home: Veterans on Campus training.

This is a 4-hour, NO-COST training for faculty and staff about the specific readjustment and mental health needs that impact student veterans' success in the classroom and on campus. The major objectives of the training are to increase awareness about military culture, the transition challenges veterans face when leaving the military, and the particular stressors faced by student veterans, including the signs and symptoms of post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD), traumatic brain injury (TBI), and suicide. This training includes three hours of lecture and one hour dedicated to a panel made up of student veterans.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

Campus staff and faculty, neighboring community colleges, UCs and CSUs, as well as community based organizations.

PRESENTER INFORMATION

This training is facilitated by Dr. David Joseph and Dr. Marshall Thomas.

David Joseph, Ph.D., currently provides treatment for veterans with readjustment stress and combat or military sexual trauma at the Oakland Vet Center. As a psychologist at the National Center for Post-Traumatic Stress Disorders (PTSD), Dr. Joseph served as the primary clinician on a multi-year study of Seeking Safety in veterans with co-occurring PTSD and substance use disorders. Dr. Joseph has developed trainings for police officers, first responders and providers on effective interventions for veterans with PTSD. In association with the California Community Colleges Chancellor's Office, he developed a training for community college faculty and staff on student veterans and PTSD. He completed his clinical internship at Napa State Hospital in Napa, CA, and received his Ph.D. in Clinical Psychology from Alliant University in San Francisco.

Marshall Thomas, Ed.D., is the Director of Veterans Affairs Services at California State University, Long Beach. He received his Bachelor's Degree in Asian Studies, Master's in Linguistics (TESL), and Ed.D. in Educational Leadership from CSULB. He teaches upper division composition courses as a Lecturer in CSULB's Department of English. He developed the VET NET Ally Program to educate college and university faculty, staff, and administrators about student veterans. The four-hour seminar, modeled after Safe Zone programs common on college campuses across the U.S., is designed to create welcoming campus environments and visible networks of allies to student veterans. Dr. Thomas is a veteran of the United States Marine Corps.
